

Awareness on web convenience for cognitive impaired people

Abstract:

The web is mainly focused on and accessible to people with no disabilities. The question in front of us is, how easy is it to access the web for cognitively impaired people? This paper illustrates the obstacles and how to overcome them. Finally, explain the approach used in resolving the issue.